"The Nike outlet hombre range has thrown up its fair share of odd constructions, but this new OverReact model is arguably the wildest. Starting with a bulbous React-cushioned sole unit as its foundation, the OverReact splashes black, ‘Volt’ and crimson across its Flyknit upper, with a Velcro strap taking the place of a more conventional lacing system.

We recently saw a preview of some Adidas Yeezy Samples from Kim Kardashian. In the preview we saw a unique Adidas Yeezy 350 Mujer which has a transparent stripe on the sides. Now we have a better look. Looking closer this Adidas Yeezy Boost 350 V2 features Cream across the upper along with Primeknit. Highlighting this pair is a translucent side stripe which is a first for any Yeezy model. Finishing the look is a Boost midsole and 3M Reflective accents.

The new Balance Zapatillas Running is a cult favourite in Japan, and is right at home on the shelves of the Apartment. They’ve chosen colours synonymous with outdoor gear, which also happen to adorn the rainforest-living toucan. Unexpectedly, these shoes would be comfortable traversing the Amazon, thanks to a hardy leather and ripstop upper, GORE-TEX lining, and hardcore metal hardware.

London’s lauded arts and design college, Central Saint Martins, recently had its aspiring fashion students help Puma Espa a online design the forward-thinking Day Zero collection. Sneakers and apparel in this collaboration promote sustainable manufacturing techniques by combining undyed fabrics with environmentally friendly dyes and prints.

Included are two color options of the Converse All Star Chuck Taylor which includes either a predominate White upper or Black. Constructed with a canvas upper, Dover Street Market’s branding is seen towards the heel. Other details include an Off-White midsole while Black and White lands on the Converse license plate branding.
